FOREWORD

We are now presenting to you the 1931 Hindsonian. In this book we have attempted to relate the activities and accomplishments of the past year and to suggest the possibilities of the future and for those who are leaving the portals of H. J. C. and are entering upon a greater undertaking, that of Life.

DEDICATION

To you who have been through the years patient with us in our shortcomings, and ever ready to urge us onward; to you whose influence and inspiration have been the foundation of our meager success; to you our honored and revered parents who have sacrificed that we might have the best of everything, we lovingly dedicate this volume of

The HINDSONIAN

ALMA MATER

I

High soar the eagles ever true,
Big-hearted in the things we do.
Red and White, our colors be
How we fight, for H. J. C.—Rah!
Our ties of friendship ever stand
Fond mem'ries of our Southern land,
Fellows! we forever pledge
To honor H. J. C.

II

We all love dear ole' H. J. C.
And try to ever loyal be
Staunch she stands, by every man
She's the best, thru'out the land.—Rah!
Happy is every college day
Hail to ole' Hinds in every way.
Yeah! Girls! Say! Boys! One! Two! Three!
Hats off to H. J. C.

THE HINDSONIAN

SCHOOL CIRCUS

School is one big circus
With side shows and parades,
And the admission fee in general
Only being to get good grades.

Some students go in for parties
For games and clubs and such,
While others like the main show
And think the rest is dutch.

The circus opens daily
And lasts from eight to four;
The students seem to like it
For they're always back for more.

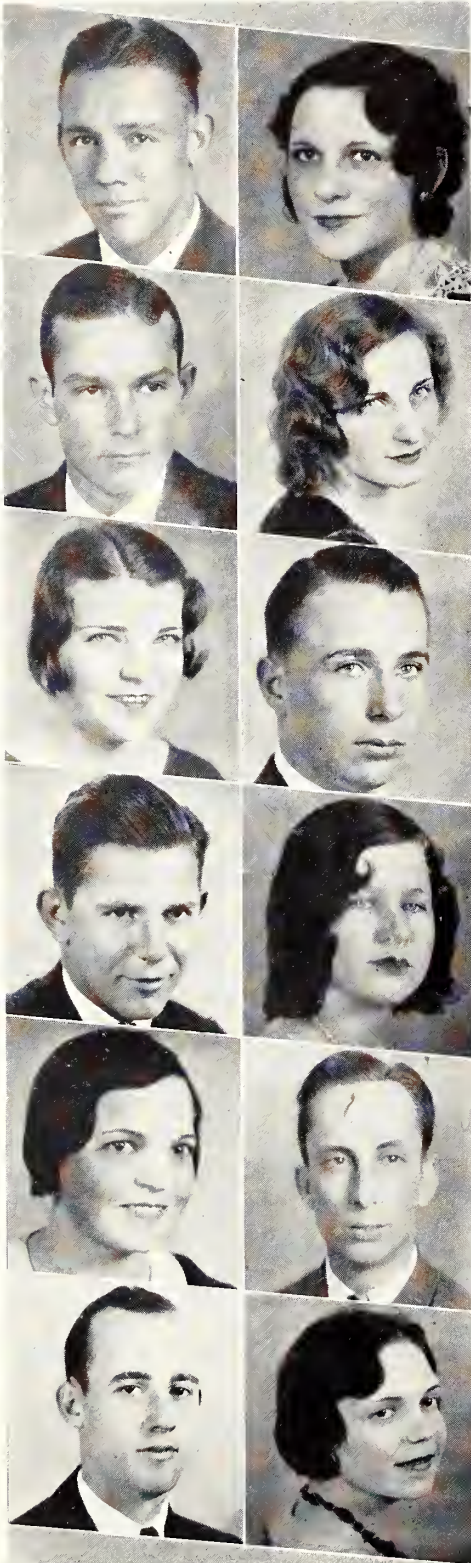

You should all take in some side shows
In this circus of life,
So you can have some playing
And not so much strife.

So don't see nothin' but side shows
Or miss all of the main,
Or you'll find your years of study
Was very much in vain.

B E L L S

(Inspired by date bell, Saturday Mar. 5, 1931)

Poe never heard any bells at all.
As you soon can see,
Compared to those we have
At dear 'ole H. J. C.

We've got a bell for everything
(I think that I can explain)
And if you ask me
They're one great thing.

First there's rising bell
Oh, my! Oh, me!
And then there's serving bell
Oh, gosh! Oh, gee.

And a bell for breakfast,
But since that's the time we eat
Of all the others
I think that one beats.

And then that bell for classes
We certainly have to hurry
And the whole dormitory
Gets in one big flurry.

Bells are rung
All during the day
And it gets monotonous
All the same ole way.

And there's a bell that means study
And why is more'n I can see
For I'm very certain
We're as smart as smart can be.

And after that there's room bell,
And then there's light bell too,
And in the morning again
There's the same ole one for you.

But of all the bells
That I think's out of sight,
It's that "date" bell
They ring on Saturday night.

THE FOOTBALL SEASON

With only three letter men back from last year's squad Coach Harris was faced with the problem of building a team from green and unexperienced players. Instead of grieving about the lack of material Coach "Jobie" went to work and turned out the best football team that Hinds Jr. College has ever produced. The Eagles were on the field early and when practice was finally over the man in

Starting the season with a six-six tie game with Carthage, the Eagles lost their next three games and the situation looked gloomy, but the Eagles worked harder and broke into the winning column by licking the strong Kemper County Jr. College team by the score of twenty-one to eight. After that victory the Eagles were unbeatable, winning from Decatur, Mississippi College Freshmen, and playing a scoreless tie with Ellisville.

Only three men are lost by graduation and Eagle supporters are expecting to have a great team next year.

GENERAL REVIEW

Hinds Jr. College athletics have truly enjoyed a good year. The football team started the fireworks by defeating some of the strongest teams in the state and the basketballers carried the good work on.

The volley ball team failed to add year number five to their string of championships, but even the world champion Athletics lose a game occasionally.

The tennis teams are exceptionally strong, with John Morgan, Robert Ballard, George Worrell, Pete Ott, and Max Stringer exhibiting their wares.

The track team boasts the stellar Herman Berryhill, who has not been defeated in a hurdle race for several seasons, Ellis Davis, Dudley Moore, Billy Walls, Sylvester Smith, Bill Andrews, Alex Holliday, Longmire, Miller, and Richardson.

The baseball team has the possibilities of developing a first class club before the end of the season.

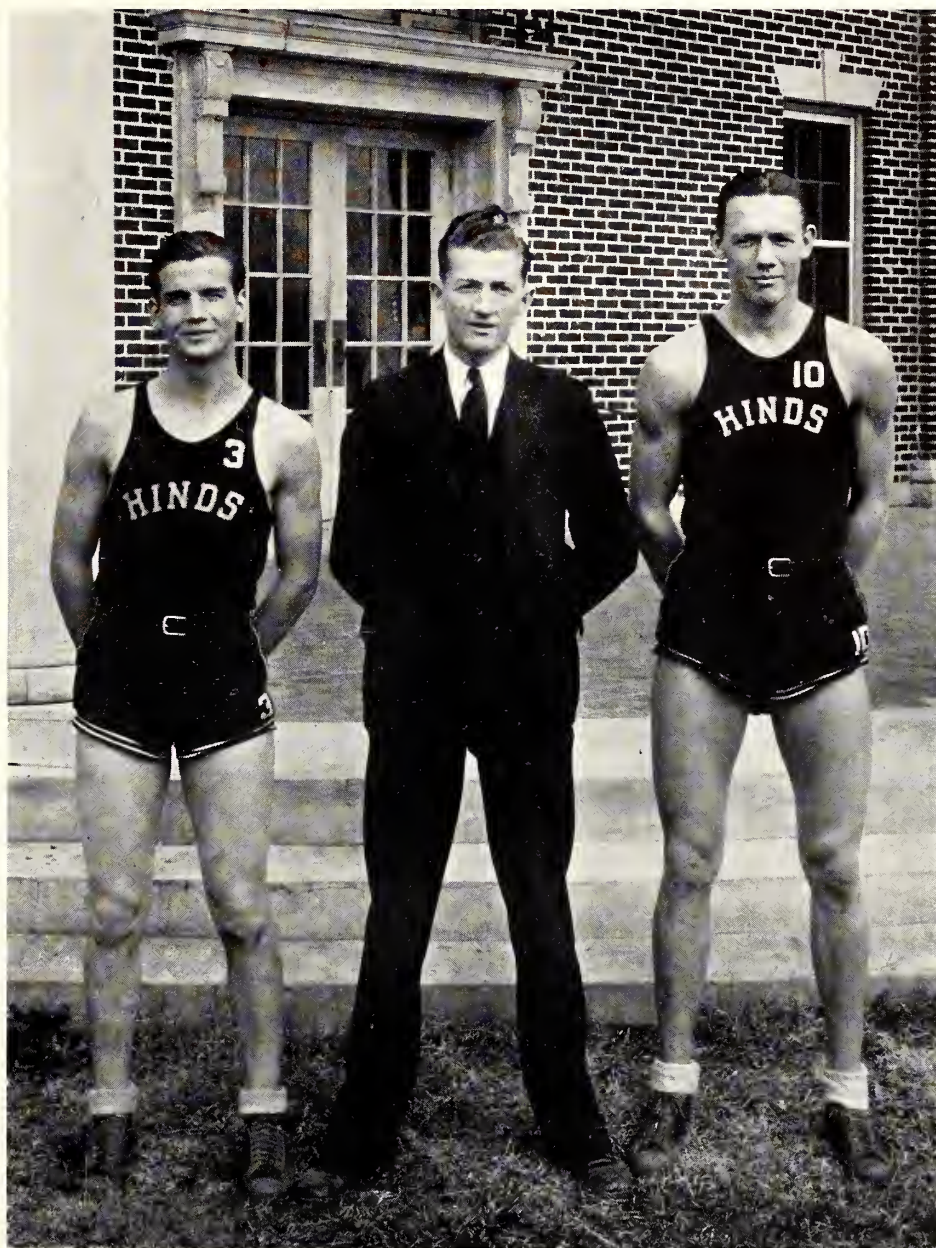

We do not claim to be the best, but we do claim to be as good as the best.

BASKET BALL

Fourteen victories and five defeats is not a bad record for any basket ball team and that's just what the Eagles did their first season under the coaching of Noel Nutt. The Eagle mentor turned out the best team in the conference despite the fact that the Eagles failed to win championship in the tournament play. Going into the semi-finals without having to play a single game the Eagles gave the mighty Copiah-Lincoln Wolves a licking that they will never forget. The Eagles had defeated the Wolves twice previous to the tourney and they were determined to get revenge. With a five point lead and only two minutes to play, it looked as though the Wolves' prayers would be answered, but Berryhill and Davis threw a couple of long ones through the wicker and then "Foots" Ponder did the hero-act by sinking a "Forkville Special" in the fading seconds of play.

Decatur defeated the Eagles for the Championship, a team that the Eagles had defeated three times previous to the tournament.

We are expecting Coach Nutt's nineteen-thirty-two team to do equally as well.

The basketball team was by far the best that H. J. C. has produced for four years. Captain Sara Standifer led the Eaglettes through an eighteen game schedule, winning eleven and losing only seven.

The Eaglettes went to the Tournament as the under-dogs, but defeated the strong Sunflower sextette in one of the greatest games ever played in the Tournament and made the mighty feminine Wolves of Wesson fight the hardest battle of their career. For three quarters the Eaglettes—rated as second-division team—led the Wesson girls by a narrow margin, but faltered in the closing minutes of play when their star forward was injured and had to leave the game.

Pearl Brown, Chesley Newman, Estelle O'Brien, Bobbie Morris, Lucile Berryhill and Lois Wicker have played their last game for Hinds, but they will always be remembered by the school for the services that they have rendered, but Eva Lee Davis, Annie Chapman, Sara Grieve, Vera Mason, Beatrice Collins, Lola Thigpen, Etoile Murdock, Marie Brichetto, Eleanor Collins and Mary V. Eckles will be back to carry on.
